Trademarks are owned or controlled by the Canadian Real Estate Association (CREA) and identify real estate professionals who are members of CREA (REALTOR®) and/or the quality of services they provide (MLS®).

A program in which REALTORS® assist the police in protecting the community in which they live and work.

REALTORS® can observe and report directly to the police any suspicious activity they may notice in the course of their day-to-day business and also respond to missing person alerts, including AMBER Alerts.

The 370+ members of the Quinte & District Association of REALTORS® is a trade association of real estate brokers and sales representatives in the Quinte Region.

In Partnership With

Let's Watch Out For Each other

What Is Realty Watch?

Realty Watch, a unique crime prevention program, is a cooperative effort between REALTORS® and police to stop crime before it happens. It also includes both AMBER alerts, which go out in the case of missing children, and alerts that go out when people with a medical condition go missing. The program is a concrete way REALTORS® can help improve the Quality of Life in our community.

Is It Similar To Neighbourhood Watch?

Realty Watch and Neighbourhood Watch are both crime prevention programs. The main difference is that Realty Watch is a mobile patrol watch system as opposed to neighbours watching each other's property.

Is Any Training Involved?

REALTORS® are provided with pamphlets from the local Police Service. Through the use of pamphlets and awareness sessions conducted by the Quinte & District Association of REALTORS®, members are made aware of what is suspicious, the information required by the police and the obvious and not so obvious things to watch for.

How Does It Work?

REALTORS® are in residential areas at all times of the day putting them in a position to notice suspicious activity while others may be away. Their participation in Realty Watch encourages them to increase their awareness and follow some simple procedures.

The REALTORS® are encouraged to write down details and telephone the police immediately. They are reminded not to become physically involved or risk their personal safety.

REALTORS® are also encouraged to make their sellers and purchasers aware of the Realty Watch Program and to assist the public to become better informed about home security.

What to Be On the Lookout For.
